Mission

We are committed to passing on and innovating traditional arts and culture and to the promotion and development of Canadian arts and culture. It is not only concerned with the preservation of arts and culture but also with the promotion of arts and culture through the creation of interactive programs that connect young and experienced artists. In addition, we encourage artists to participate in the spiritual and cultural life of the community by incorporating diverse arts and cultures, which helps to enhance the understanding of cultural diversity.

Vision

We provide a diversified platform for students to create art and to promote art and culture to the public. As arts and culture are important parts of society, we hope to cultivate students' artistic capabilities and critical thinking skills through education on arts and culture. We are a non-profit organization that conducts research on creative arts, publishes educational books, and creates multicultural documentaries. Through these programs, we promote social innovation and reform, enrich people's lives, inspire thought, promote creativity, and strengthen social connections to enable them to succeed and make an impact in their future careers.

Values

We emphasize cultural diversity and promote the development of creativity, critical thinking, and confidence. At the same time, we respect different cultural values, promote cross-cultural exchanges, and promote the spread of values through education.

ART & CULTURE PROGRAMS

Artist Exchange | Exhibitions | Workshops | Performing Arts | Lectures

By organizing arts and cultural events, exhibitions, and competitions, we can not only promote the arts to the general public but also inspire students to participate in artistic creation and cultural exploration. Participation in competitions can help students develop their creative skills, increase their confidence, and cultivate their critical thinking skills. This will help them become more successful and influential in their future careers.

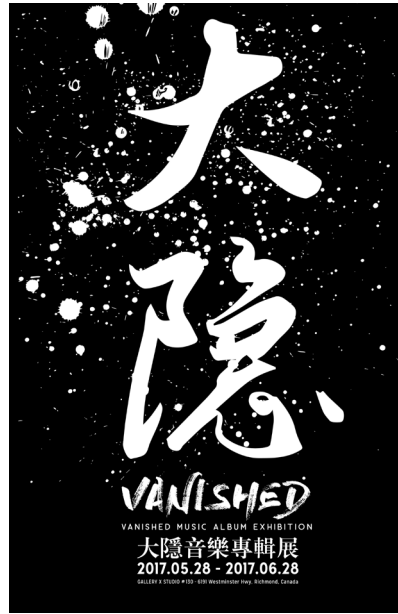

We focus on students' holistic growth. By participating in competitions, they will learn how to face challenges and difficulties, which is a very important skill in their lives. In addition, arts and culture inspire dreams and passions and provide a stage to showcase talents and potential. We encourage students to pursue their dreams and help them explore and develop their potential. It is valuable for promoting the development of arts and culture and students' artistic capabilities and critical thinking skills, which contribute to the development of a culturally diverse community and facilitate the growth of future artists and intellectuals.

X T-SHIRT PROJECT

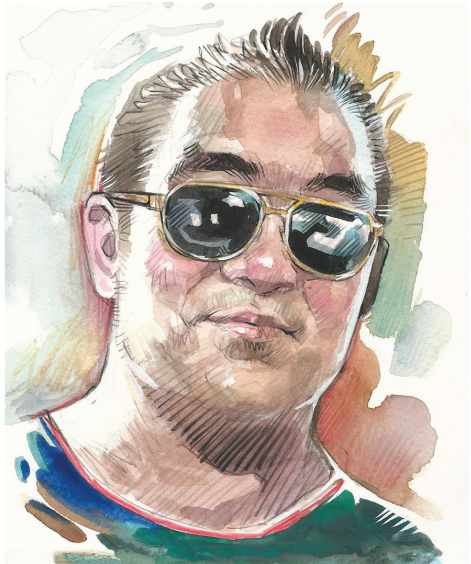

The Association invites children from different regions to an annual t-shirt drawing contest to draw the world in their minds. The team of qualified artists of the Association selects imaginative and creative drawings and turns them into actual t-shirts. This event not only realizes the children's painting dreams and brings them to life, but also donates the sales of the T-shirts to support children's charities around the world. Whether they are drawing, painting, or printing t-shirts, children learn and grow by participating in the process, and it offers both children and parents a fun experience in life. Through the exhibition of diversified arts and culture and the cooperation of the community, the Association will demonstrate the children's ideas about art through different works or products in order to inspire children to develop various creative ideas about art and culture.

X ART EXHIBITION PROJECT

The X Art Exhibition Project, in collaboration with other organizations, provides autistic children with an opportunity to develop their abilities through art activities such as painting and ceramics. Through these art activities, autistic children are exposed to a variety of materials, thus nurturing their potential and providing real-world development opportunities. To help autistic children enhance their life skills and return to school and society, the Association and autism rehabilitation organizations hold art events, such as small playgroups and art creations in painting, which provide opportunities for family unity. The painting events promote the children's cognitive, emotional, creative, and social abilities.
